DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figures 1 and 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 1 recites the limitation "the gel injection" in line 15. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "the pivotal point" in lines 2, 4 and 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6,155,463 to Dentler.

Dentler shows an extruding implement structure as seen in Figs. 1-5 having a base 28, a front blocking base 20, a rear base 12, a silicon gel can 22, a push rod 32 extending in to the back of the silicon can and pivotally coupled to a first elastic member 36, a first latch plate 34, a second elastic member 40 and a second latching plate 38. Dentler also shows a pivotable handle 14 driving the first latch plate to push the push rod forward and in an aslant position with respect to the push rod and the base.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 3-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,155,463 to Dentler in view of US 5,156,305 to Eyre.

Dentler shows all claimed features as discussed above except for a flexible latch member between the second latch plate and the outside of the rear base. Eyre shows a second latch member 53 made out of a rigid and a flexible material, 55 and 54 respectively, where the flexible material can be an "O" ring, see Fig. 4a. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a second latch member with a flexible material in the device of Dentler as taught by Eyre to allow the push rod limited retreat to take the dispensing force off the silicon container to prevent leakage when the trigger is not depressed.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kreidel shows an oil-lubricating can. Costa shows an anti-drool extrusion device. Finnegan shows an automatic pressure release mechanism for caulk gun. Bowles shows a hand-operated dispenser for semi solid materials. Robards shows a dispenser for extrude-able material. Taylor shows a caulking gun with foldable operating handle. Sung shows a dispensing gun with a pressure-relieving device.
